

Boost Your Credibility and Attract High-Value Clients
Imagine the impact on your professional reputation when you become a co-author of "Keep More When You Exit™"

Are you ready to elevate your status as a nationally recognized exit planner? Here's an incredible opportunity to become a co-author of "Keep More When You Exit™" alongside 4 other industry leaders. Don't miss out on this chance to showcase your expertise and boost your credibility!

By aligning yourself with this groundbreaking book and a select group of nationally recognized exit planners, you'll instantly elevate your credibility in the eyes of potential clients. They'll see you as an authority in the field, someone who not only talks the talk but also walks the walk. This heightened credibility will make it easier to attract high-value clients who are eager to work with a true expert.

Leverage the Power of a Published Book for Your Marketing

As a co-author, you'll have a powerful marketing tool at your fingertips. The book itself will serve as a tangible demonstration of your expertise, something you can proudly display in your office or hand out to prospective clients. But that's just the beginning. You'll also have the opportunity to share your insights through a featured 20-minute recorded Zoom interview with Brad Barros. This video content is perfect for your website, social media channels, and email marketing campaigns. By leveraging the book and the interview, you'll be able to reach a wider audience and make a lasting impression on potential clients.

Expand Your Professional Network and Reach New Referral Sources

As a co-author of "Keep More When You Exit™", you'll have the opportunity to significantly expand your professional network by marketing yourself as a nationally recognized expert in the exit planning field. By leveraging the book and your featured interview, you'll be able to reach new referral sources and potential clients who are seeking the guidance of a true authority. Your elevated status as a published author will open doors to new connections and opportunities that may have previously been out of reach. As you share your insights and expertise through various marketing channels, you'll attract the attention of other professionals in the industry who will be eager to refer their clients to you. This expanded network of referral sources will be invaluable in growing your business and securing high-value clients who appreciate working with a nationally recognized expert.

Don't miss this chance to catapult your career to new heights.
